

The Wittenberg Early Career Research Fellowship 2023

The Wittenberg Fellows Program is an all-expense-paid summer course for students and researchers interested in the history and theology of the Reformation. It offers an unique access to this story that changed the course of history by:

- visiting the original sites,
- exploring and discussing historically important sources,
- getting to know the practice of Reformation research in Germany,
- meeting distinguished Reformation scholars personally.

For the next Wittenberg Summer Course (June 4–July 2, 2023) the Wittenberg Center for Reformation Studies (WCRS) and the Reformationsgeschichtliche Forschungsbibliothek Wittenberg (RFB) invite an Early Career Research Fellow to Wittenberg to pursue his/her research. In Wittenberg the Reformation Research Library (RFB), the City and Parish Archives, and the Luther House offer great possibilities for exploring the history of the Reformation and its impact on early modern church and society. From Wittenberg one can reach Berlin, Halle, Dessau, and Leipzig within an hour by train, Jena, Weimar, and Wolfenbüttel are also not far away.

The Fellowship offers:

- flight ticket,
- accommodation in an apartment in Wittenberg,
- stipend for living expenses,
- grant for research expenses.

The Research Fellow has the right to participate in all the activities of the Student Fellows' Summer Course (course program, guest lectures, on-site excursions, weekend excursions). The directors of the Wittenberg Center and its academic advisors are willing to give every possible support. The Fellow is expected to present his/her research in one afternoon session to the Student Fellows.

You can apply for the Wittenberg Early Career Research Fellowship

- if you have earned your PhD in the last five years or are about to finish it within the coming year and
- if a four-week stay in Wittenberg is important for your current research.
